Problem: When I try to use autocad 4.1 from my company server on my home PC it won't read any dxf files, but when I put the same dxf file on my work machine, it works fine. I am having the same problem even when i save the dxf file on the home PC. I tried different versions of autocad and other apps like cadence and a few autocad 2010 beta ones that I downloaded from the website but nothing is working. I followed the below tutorials and the procedure of autocad 2010 but it's not working: Help please... A: Did you have to do the following in the 2003 and older versions of AutoCAD? Open and activate the Drawing Manager. Open the 2003 version of drawing.dwg file. Save the drawing (should have a file name on the save dialog) Open the drawing in the 2008 (or later) version of AutoCAD. If that doesn't work, have you tried to rename the file on the server? Or try changing the permissions on it?
